Total Price Control & Efficiency Management in Procurement

What is ProcureCheck?

ProcureCheck is an advanced price control solution which analyses all indirect or revenue areas of expenditure such as Telecoms, IT, Printing and Postage, Fuel, Energy, Transportation etc. and identifies immediate cost and efficiency savings. By baselining your existing charges (using electronic market data feeds and "live" supplier pricing) we are able to highlight immediate savings for your organisation and maximise efficiency in any requested budget area.

ProcureCheck involves a full and comprehensive analysis of all your present procurement costs, contracts and procedures. This enables us to see what you are buying and how you are buying it.

We would require access to all recent payment records that are relevant to the area of spend you would like analysed and at least three months of current data to build a sufficiently accurate profile.

The information has to be as complete and detailed as possible to ensure the integrity of the analysis and we will assist in the collection of all the necessary raw data.

Cost Reporting and Analysis:

Once the ProcureCheck analysis has been carried out we will then create a fully itemised report detailing your present spend within the chosen budget area. This is the baseline cost from which all savings can be measured and will allow us to accurately identify AND quantify what efficiency savings are possible.

By benchmarking your spend against what other organisations are paying - and the prices being offered in the market place - the report will enable you to see exactly how much can be saved and in what areas. It will compare what you are paying with what you could be paying.

ProcureCheck only provides guaranteed savings figures on current expenditure.

SavingsCheck - Implementation of Cost and Efficiency Savings:

Although we can offer ProcureCheck as a "stand alone" analysis it is through SavingsCheck that we are able to move the process forward from savings identification to savings implementation.

Having accurately identified exactly what savings can be made SavingsCheck will then deliver these savings across all categories of spend.

Purchase Cost Savings:

Significant savings on the purchase cost of goods and services are implemented through contract renegotiation or collaborative buying with new and/or existing suppliers.

Operational Cost Saving:

Working in co-operation with senior management we would ensure that all savings are put in place. This independent, "outsourced" overseeing of the procurement process - from purchase through to payment - improves efficiency, reduces overall administration costs and eliminates potential waste. Dedicated resources and infrastructure means that all savings are rapidly introduced and managed as required. Agreed strategy and improvement targets will continue to drive down costs on an ongoing basis.

What are the Charges for ProcureCheck and SavingsCheck:

We have a flexible and competitive pricing structure that can be tailored to suit the specific requirements of our Clients.

Having provided an index of clear and transparent baseline costs with ProcureCheck it will then be possible to calculate exact savings across all categories of analysed spend.

Once they have been put in place by SavingsCheck we would then expect to be paid a proportion of this monthly, audited savings figure - agreed upon once the volume of potential savings has been calculated.

If SavingsCheck is used in conjunction with ProcureCheck we will not receive any benefit share until we have delivered savings to the equivalent value of the fee paid for ProcureCheck's initial analysis.
